TASTING NOTES

NOSE

The first impression reveals a fascinating mixture of light smoke, cold ash, fresh citrus fruit and green apple, followed by a hint of white chocolate. With time in the glass, floral notes - perhaps acacia blossom - unfold, accompanied by a light spiciness reminiscent of freshly ground white pepper. This aroma combines classic Lowland elegance with subtle surprises.

PALATE

On the palate, the whisky has a silky texture that is supported by the high alcohol strength. Ripe pears, apricot jam and a hint of mandarin zest open the flavour profile paired with subtle yet perceptible smoke. Spicy accents of cinnamon and nutmeg soon follow, providing a warm contrast to the fruity sweetness. A light note of almond biscuits and toffee rounds off the impression.

FINISH

The finish is medium-long and dry. Oak spice and vanilla linger on the palate, accompanied by a pleasant bitterness reminiscent of cocoa nibs. A slight aftertaste of green tea lends additional sophistication.

THOUGHTS

MARCEL

This Mystic Lowlands 2011/2024 really brings fun to the glass – with its lively fruit, a hint of smoke, and sweet spice, it feels like a little flavor journey through the Lowlands. Anyone looking for a whisky with character and a cheeky wink will be perfectly served here.

SASCHA

The Mystic Lowlands 2011/2024 impresses with its balanced structure and harmonious interplay of fruitiness, spice, and subtle smokiness. Its complex aroma profile and precise finish make it an exemplary representative of intense Lowland whiskies with great maturation potential.
